Great People from Iwate

There are a lot of cities in Iwate. The biggest city is Morioka. Ishikawa Takuboku was from Tamayama, Morioka. He wrote a lot of tanka poems. Kindaichi Kyouzuke was also from there and he made some good dictionaries.

Ninohe has an interesting story about Zashki-warashi. Tanakadate Aikitsu was from Ninohe. He was one of the greatest scientist in Japan. He started the National Astronomical Observatory of Japan in Mizusawa.

[①] was from Hanamaki and wrote a lot of wonderful books. He taught farming at school, too. He called our hometown Ihatove.

[③] is famous for Fujiwara Kiyohira and his family's ideas for peace. Now Hiraizumi is a World Heritage Site. Many people visit there.
