August 13, 2011

Dear Karen,

How have you been? I remember I promised to visit you in Hawaii this summer. But I am sorry. I cannot come to see you and your family. I've gone to a village in Africa to help sick people. They have many diseases here. But there are few doctors and hospitals are far from the village. Now we need more medicine, food and clean water. [①], but I want to try my best for the children here.

I also teach the children how to play otedama and kendama here. They like playing them. But we don't have many toys, so lots of children cannot use them. [②]

I will go back to my country next spring, and then I can come to Hawaii next April. I want to see you then. [③] Please write me an e-mail soon.

Sincerely,

promise : 約束する disease(s) : 病気 medicine : 薬
toy : おもちゃ

your friend, Jin
